This exciting 3 hour training will inspire and motivate Early Learning Educators for the new school year and beyond. Eric Carle's books have stimulated storytelling and literacy since 1967, starting with "Brown Bear, Brown Bear." Participants will examine the Carle's educational approach and receive a packet of teacher resources and activities to inspire literacy in their own classroom. Resources will include ideas and activities for phonemic awareness, numeracy, process art and so much more. Join us as we think off the page and into the world of Eric Carle.
